THE Fairmont
SONOMA MISSION INN & SPA

Greetings from Wine Country,

We look forward to welcoming you to The Fairmont Sonoma Mission Inn & Spa. We are happy to offer some great ideas to assist you in planning the perfect vacation in Wine Country!

Even though there are over 1,500 wineries and a hundred or so great restaurants in the region, we highly recommend planning ahead. Many of the most popular options book weeks and months in advance, especially during high season (Spring through Fall).

With so many options to choose from, personal preference plays a big role in planning your stay. The following guide is a comprehensive list of our favorites. This guide is broken down into the main wine producing regions; which varietals they specialize in, which require appointments and different tour options. This guide also lists restaurants and activities. There are many clickable web links throughout our document that offer more detailed information about specific locations.

When choosing wineries to visit, we strongly recommend that you make it a point to experience some of the smaller boutique or cult-style Mom and Pop wineries. These wineries produce amazing limited production wines and typically only sell them directly from the winery. These wineries offer a genuine Wine Country experience.

If you would prefer to leave the planning up to us, kindly provide a little information about your preferences, such as: I love Cabernet or Chardonnay; I'd like to taste nice wines in beautiful settings with my friends, or I am looking for rare higher-quality cult wines for my home or cellar. It will also be our pleasure to arrange restaurant reservations and other activity requests as well.

Please feel free to contact us with any special requests prior to your arrival.

Warmest Regards,

The Concierge Team

Wine Tours

Arranging a Wine Tasting Day

Wineries are generally open from 10 – 5 PM, but hours do vary. Many of the wineries open to the public do not require appointments; however, in recent years, many wineries, especially in Napa County, are now requiring appointments for all guests due to permit restrictions that restrict the number of clients some wineries are able to see daily. For this reason, reservations are strongly suggested for many of the well know wineries that dot Sonoma and Napa County. For by appointment experiences, also keep in mind that tasting fees are typically not waived. If you are securing a driver or private transportation, tasting fees are not included with the cost of transportation.

There are numerous transportation companies in wine country; however, below is a list of our preferred partners. It will be our pleasure to reserve transportation for you to ensure you receive the best rate possible.

Please note all transportation companies have a 72 hour cancellation policy. Price is subject to change.

Three wine tour options are:

1.) Chauffer: Chauffer services will transport you from the hotel to wineries of your choice. They offer Town cars, SUV's, Vans, Sprinters and Buses.

- ❖ Beau Wine Tours - $84 per hour includes tax and tip and fuel charge, for a town car with 4 hour minimum Monday – Friday and a 5 hour minimum on weekends. Beau's personal concierge can assist you in planning a day in wine country.

2.) Personal Wine Tour Guide: This is the best option for a more exclusive private tour. For little more than a standard chauffer, you can hire a personal wine guide service that arranges your tour and drives you in a luxury vehicle. All of the following companies specialize in the Napa and Sonoma County wine regions. They arrange a custom wine tasting day after speaking to you about your tastes and preferences. They have great connections for privileged access to hard to get into boutique wineries. This is our favorite option and what we do personally when we are locating and purchasing hard to find wines.

- ❖ Bowers Wine Tours – (Starting at $75 per hour plus tax, tip and tasting fees, 5 hour minimum) – This husband and wife team specialize in small boutique wineries and create wonderful wine tasting itineraries. Peter speaks multiple languages and has written many books about Wine Country.
